

Amritsar

Anganwari workers hold protest

Published on: Dec 23 2015 2:41AM

---

Anganwari workers protest in support of their demands in Amritsar on Tuesday. Photo: vishal kumar

---

Tribune News Service

Amritsar, December 22

Anganwari workers from the district held a rally at the Company Bagh to protest against the meagre pay given to them and the restricted budget allotted for anganwari centres.

The workers demanded that a minimum pay of Rs 15,000 should be given to them. Anganwari Employees Union president Gurminder Kaur said the government had also reduced the funds sent to the anganwari workers.

She said the centres were working to check malnutrition among children, provide day-care facilities to them and ensure proper medical check-up of pregnant women.

She said the workers despite being working honestly and tirelessly were being meted out a step-motherly treatment by the government.

