Seven impoverished Bokaro workers who were enslaved by a Gujarat-based firm for more than four months back to their home on Monday. Their ordeal of confinement were ended after the intervention and initiation of Bokaro DC Rai Mahimapat Ray, on Tuesday all seven were meet with Ray and tanked him for saving their lives.

Kailesh Soren, Gandeshwar Manjhi, Ajay Soren, Sanatan Marandi, Sunil Soren Mithun Hembrem the residents of Beldih and Karan Hansda resident of Keshridih village under Pindrajora police station reached their native village on Monday evening following the intervention of Ray, said district administrative official.

“After getting the complaint Ray immediately talked with Morbi (Gujrat) DM S M Patel and DDC S Rajesh and all seven were released within few hours”, added the official.

They told that promising them a plum package, a Dhanbad based tiles seller took them to Gujrat. Where they were enslaved by the contractor under whom they were engaged, even we are not getting paid against our hard labour, said Ajay.

“We all are in confinement, hunger and regularly insulted by the contractor of the firm. Even we are not getting our wages,” alleged Hembrem one enslaved worker.

“We have no communication since past one month. Luckily one of them got chance and we got the information about their torment”, he added. “Thanks to the DC sahib who saved our lives”, all of them said simultaneously.
